Because your community is a membership Association, each member (owner) is expected to comply with the directives set forth in the Covenants, Conditions and Regulations (CC&Rs), the Bylaws, and the Association Rules and Regulations you were given an electronic copy during the closing process. If you need a copy of said documents, please contact the management company. If this is occupied by anyone other than the owner, it is imperative that a copy of the CC&R's, Bylaws, and Association Rules & Regs be made available to the tenant/resident. Any failure by the tenants/resident to follow the Association rules may bring consequences to the owner of the unit. By signing this statement, you are verifying that you received the electronic copy of these documents.
